We find that very often our students request guidance in the selection of a lender for their educational borrowing needs. The above list represents the lenders selected by Bryant & Stratton College, who after an extensive review of requests for information from a number of lenders, best fit the needs of our students. Information reviewed included lender's size and history, borrower and school services, and borrower benefits to name a few. Additional information on this selection process may be requested through your campus financial aid office. This review process will be conducted on an annual basis. It is important to remember that although this list exists, it is intended only as a guide. Bryant & Stratton Associates must process a loan from any lender selected by a student. Students will not suffer any penalty for doing so.

* Citibank has made available the CitiAssist Global Loan program for students who attend our Virginia and Milwaukee Campuses. This is a limited pool of loan funds that has been made available for students who would not otherwise qualify for the standard CitiAssist Program. Please note that these loans come with less favorable terms, including higher interest rates and/or higher origination fees. Such loans may be appropriate in only certain circumstances, and are normally offered on a one-time basis. Bryant & Stratton College does not receive any type of remuneration from Citibank for making these loans available to our students in those states.
